GENESIS

THE ROSACRUCIAN RITUAL

1780. Strange crimes color the streets of Paris red. To solve the mystery, Agent Marais must delve into the enigmatic world of Rosicrucian magic and alchemy.

Various crimes have colored the streets of Paris red. Gustave Marais, police officer of the recently dissolved Chatélet Tribunal, will have to discover the truth by experiencing firsthand the mysterious Rosicrucian Order ritual. An enigmatic and dark individual and a prostitute are the apparently keys to unlocking the mystery.

Shortly before being assassinated, a maiden turns over a recently born baby to a mentally handicapped man who, along with his midget friend, Petit Ours, decides to flee Paris in hopes of protecting the baby. Some women guide him to a house of friends, but there they discover that they have been the victims of a trap in which they were meant to die.
