

THE ASTONISHING HISTORY OF THE SECOND WORLD WAR

*The most surprising facts of the war
that shook the world*

Synopsis

A widespread and rigorous (in an historical sense) novel that gives the reader an insight into astonishing anecdotes and unusual facts of the Second World War. An interesting recompilation with historical facts and episodes that weren't written much about, but are marking everyday life in these days.

The reader gets to know what role animals played at the battlefields. Furthermore, he finds out that the interest in art and culture was just the same at the days of war as today.

This book offers many chapters about everyday life in these days, but also curiosities, such as soldiers drinking the fuel of flying bombs and of torpedos, while others distilled alcohol in the ships' machine rooms or made ice cream during their flight missions. On these pages, you can find all kinds of curiosities, such as the origin of the spaghetti a la carbonara or the fateful destiny of Mussolini's and Goering's ships or the fact that Hitler watched the "The grate dictator" by Chaplin.

But the reader will be mostly surprised by Eisenhower, because as he was voted for president of the United States of America, he copied the plans of the auto-bahn from Hitler.

All these anecdotes show the reader the other side of this bloody conflict (1939-45), a tragedy that holds many curiosities and surprises for everybody who is interested in history.

The author

Jesús Hernández. He reached the top very fast and became the best selling spanish author of books about the Second World War, because of his entertaining style of writing. He also collaborates with TV.

Size: 17x22,5cm

Binding: Country decor with flaps

Illustrated

Pages: 400

ISBN13:978-849763351-2

PVP:16,95 €

Collection: Historia Incógnita

 nowtilus
www.nowtilus.com